Art Unit: 1623

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on November 15, 2006 has been entered.

Claim 33 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The terminology "spray granulating the combination onto cellulose to form granules" is not disclosed or suggested by the specification as originally filed.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 28 and 30-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Maxfield et al (U.S. Patent No. 4,597,969).

Maxfield et al disclose mixing the active compound with solvent, such as alcohol and forming granules by dry granulation (column 5, lines 11-32) and disclose in column 4, line 41 that the active compound can be ivermectin. Maxfield et al also disclose the combination of drugs (column 4, lines 27-30). The claimed compositions are deemed prima facie obvious over Maxfield et al. In addition, if there are any differences between the claimed compositions and the prior art composition, the differences would appear to be minor in nature and the claimed compositions, which fall within the scope of the prior art's disclosure, would have been prima facie obvious from the said prior art's disclosure to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made.

Art Unit: 1623

Claims 28-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Maxfield et al (U.S. Patent No. 4,597,969) in view of Mihalik (U.S. Patent No. 6,340,672).

Maxfield et al disclose spray granulating a mixture of ivermectin and alcohol as discussed above but do not disclose the addition of pyrantel palmoate, praziquantel and fenbedazole or febantel. However, since Mihalik discloses an anti-parasitic composition comprising avermectin and further teaches that additional anti-parasitic agents, such as those encompassed by the present claims, can be added to the avermectin-comprising composition (column 3, lines 16-32), a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the present invention was made would have been motivated to add additional anti-parasitic agents to the composition disclosed by Maxfield et al.
